

STUDY ABROAD IN SIENA, ITALY!

3 credits, 35 days!
June 2 – July 6, 2017
COST: $4,958

(Includes: airfare, apartment lodging, excursions, instruction, entrance fees, transfer shuttle to Siena, contrada community dinners and events.)

HST 305 or AN 380: Livable Cities Local Tradition amid Global Change

One Academic Program, 2 Course Options

Prof. Tom Paradis, Topics in History, HST 305 or AN 380 (5-6 students max.)
Prof. Brenda Johnston, Topics in Arts Administration, AA 383 (5-6 students max.)

An interdisciplinary program that welcomes students with one or more of the following interests:

- Observing community viability, livability, and public safety as take-away lessons
 - History, geography, architecture, and urban design of Italian cities
 - Gaining confidence with foreign travel and public transit
 - Influences of globalization and mass tourism on local traditions
- Exploring Siena's 17 contradas (neighborhoods) and their community success
 - Studying public spaces and urban issues in Venice, Italy! (3-day trip)

FEATURING: The Days of the Palio

One of Europe's Most Fascinating Medieval-era Community Events.

A recent Palio in Piazza del Campo,
Always raced on July 2 and Aug 16

Our first 10 Butler student "ambassadors" with Panther Contrada friends, June 2016

Contact: Prof. Tom Paradis tparadis@butler.edu (940-8972) to express interest.